

The American West as Living Space

Readings & conversations for people who love the West

Thursdays, Sept 8th, 15th, and 22nd at 7 pm @ the Ned Library

In honor of the Pulitzer Prizes' 2016 centennial celebration, a three-part literary series surrounding "The American West as Living Space," with discussions facilitated by scholar and historian Dr. Derek Everett.

Before each meeting participants will read selections about the American West written by Pulitzer-recognized authors. This program is funded in part by Colorado Humanities and the Pulitzer Prizes Campfires Initiative.

Gary Snyder

Wallace Stegner

Annie Proulx

Louise Erdrich

Robert Hass

Kay Ryan

Want to join The American West as Living Space reading group? Sign up!

This workshop is limited to 25 participants. All participants will receive a free copy of the "American West as Living Space" reader, which includes nonfiction, journalism, fiction and poetry.

To sign up, contact Jay Mann at jaymann.ncl@gmail.com or 303.258.1101

The Pulitzer Prizes

200 Hwy 72 North

303.258.1101

nedlib.org