

Young Adult

The 48 by Donna Hosie

Henry VIII's Tudor court meets time-traveling teen assassins in this riveting thriller. Twins Charlie and Alex Douglas are the newest time travelers recruited to the Forty-Eight, a clandestine military group in charge of manipulating history.

Hey, Kiddo by Jarrett J. Krosoczka

Hey, Kiddo is the graphic memoir of author-illustrator Jarrett J. Krosoczka. Raised by his colorful grandparents, who adopted him because his mother was an incarcerated heroin addict, Krosoczka didn't know his father's name until he saw his birth certificate when registering for a school ski trip. (A National Book Award Finalist)

Resistance written by Carla Jablonski, illustrated by Leland Purvis

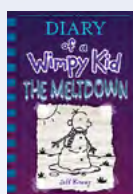

Paul and Marie's father is a Prisoner of War, kept hostage by the Germans during World War II. When their friend Henri's parents disappear and Henri goes into hiding because of his Jewish ancestry, Paul and Marie realize they must take a stand. But how can they convince the French Resistance that even children can help in their fight against injustice? (The first book in the Resistance series).

Juvenile

Amulet (#8): Supernova by Kazu Kibuishi

Emily has lost control of her Amulet and is imprisoned in the Void, where she must find a way to escape the influence of the Voice.

Diary of a Wimpy Kid (#12): The Meltdown by Jeff Kinney

When snow shuts down Greg Heffley's middle school, his neighborhood transforms into a wintry battlefield. Rival groups fight over territory, build massive snow forts, and stage epic snowball fights.

You Wouldn't Want to be a Civil War Soldier

written by Thomas Ratliff, illustrated by David Antram

As a soldier in the Union Army you get an insider's look at what life was like for Union and Confederate soldiers and an overview of some of the most important battles. This delightful series brings something unusual to the study of history: humor.
