

May We Suggest . . .

A New Book on a Cold Winter Day!

Winter 2019

The Testaments: the Sequel to the Handmaid's Tale

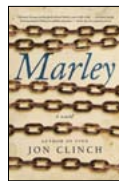

By Margaret Atwood

Long awaited, here's the riveting conclusion.

Marley

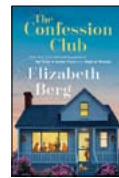

By Jon Clinch

In this imagined prequel to Dickens's A Christmas Carol, we find out that Jacob Marley was an unsavory character already when he and Scrooge met as boys.

The Confession Club

By Elizabeth Berg

"Family doesn't have to be defined in the traditional sense, home isn't always where we expect it to be, and the love of friends is all we really need." (Booklist)

A Perfect Eye

By Stephanie Kane

An edgy psychological thriller that stands at the intersection of crime and art. Set in the Denver Art Museum, it also takes an unflinching look at what goes on behind those closed doors.

Gideon the Ninth (The Locked Tomb, #1)

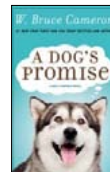

By Tamsyn Muir

A solar system of swordplay, cutthroat politics, and lesbian necromancers; a heart-pounding epic science fantasy.

A Dog's Promise

By W. Bruce Cameron

Another story of Bailey, the good dog whose journey started in A Dog's Purpose (the international hit film) and continued in A Dog's Journey. This time, Bailey is joined by Lacey, another very special dog, who helps Bailey fulfill his promise over the course of several lives.

What Rose Forgot

By Nevada Barr

A stand-alone suspense novel whose main character is an aging woman who thinks she's in danger -- or is it dementia? She enlists her granddaughter to help her get out of some VERY tight spots.

A Catered New Year's Eve: A Mystery with Recipes #15

By Isis Crawford

Sisters Bernie and Libby Simmons are reunited with a distant relative who wants them to cater a New Year's Eve event—and help find a guilty party.

On Swift Horses

By Shannon Pufahl

A lonely newlywed and her wayward brother-in-law follow divergent and dangerous paths through the postwar American West, this is a story of love and gambling, a powerful debut novel.

Land of Wolves

By Craig Johnson

Walt Longmire continues to save northern Wyoming from unsavory characters, both human and lupine.

Arapaho Summer

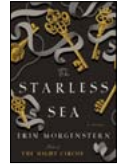

By Kinley Roby

In 1867, two Union veterans and two Arapaho women they rescue from a Lakota war party set off on the Oregon Trail in search of a new beginning, confronting prejudice at every turn.

Starless Sea

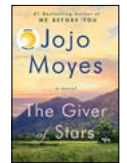

By Erin Morganstern

A timeless love story set in a secret underground world—a place of pirates, painters, lovers, liars, and ships that sail upon a starless sea.

The Giver of Stars

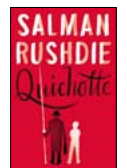

By JoJo Moyes

Inspired by the history of the actual Pack Horse Librarians, this is a tribute not just to the brave women who brought the light of knowledge in dark times, but also to the rejuvenating bond of women's friendship.

Quichotte

By Salman Rushdie

Don Quixote for our time, a smart satire of every aspect of contemporary culture. Witty, profound, tender, this love story shows a fiction master at his brilliant best.

Let us know if something catches your interest and you don't see it; we'll bring it in for you!